

Parent Code of Conduct:

This list of words or actions constitutes a violation of the Code of Conduct of the Association and includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Coaches should not discuss any try-out related situations, game, a game incident or a situation that occurred during the game that has provoked an adverse emotional response or created a hostile situation until at least 24 hours after the fact. A Parent or Member is not to approach a coach to discuss a try-out related situation, a practice incident, a game, a game incident or a situation that occurred during the game that has provoked an adverse emotional response or a hostile situation until at least 24 hours after the fact.

Note to 24 Hour Rule: Hockey is an emotional sport. The physical battles that players fight for control of the puck can spill on to the bench and stands and create strong reactions from coaches. This intense emotional aspect of hockey is one of the reasons it makes exciting entertainment.

For parents, it is important to separate game emotions from the best interests of their child's sports development. For this reason, SCIR has adopted the "24 Hour Rule". The intent of this rule is to move an emotional and confrontational discussion away from the presence of the players, and to allow the parties to "cool off", compose themselves and put the provoking incident or situation that occurred in the game in perspective before meeting to discuss it.

8. You should never use profane and/or vulgar language or mannerisms that are offensive to other persons.

17. You should never incite other persons to become involved in any of the above listed activities.
18. Any other conduct deemed inappropriate by the officials, association or league representatives, Board members of SCIR, and arena personnel.

I have read and understand the above code of conduct, and agree to abide by its guidelines at all team and league activities.
